ESTIMATED COST OF WATER AND SEWER WORKS

Today there appears in this paper a Notice addressed to owners of property in connection with the proposed sewerage works. It has been decided by the Town Council after consultation with the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to undertake the financing of the Sewerage System to the extent of $45,000 of the capital cost by a special assessment against the lots fronting on the various streets, along which sewer lines are to be laid as set out in the Notice.

The total estimated cost of the Water and Sewer works to be constructed, according to the Engineers' preliminary report is $194,000.00. This figure is of course only an estimate. After deducting the $45,000.00 to be raised by special assessment, which by the way is extended over a period of thirty years with interest at a rate not higher than 5% per annum (probably 4%), there remains the sum of $149,000.00 to be raised on the general credit of the Town. It is expected that the annual debenture payments for the whole project will be met by the charges for water and sewer service, plus the special assessment above mentioned for sewer, and a frontage tax.

The whole additional charge against property (apart from ordinary taxes) as outlined, should not exceed 25c per front foot annually. On that basis the owner of a 50 foot lot would pay his ordinary taxes plus $12.50 attributable to the water and sewer financing. If he installs the service the householder will of course also pay his ordinary service charges as set by by-law, and will pay for the water used according to quantity.

The above is only a sketchy outline. Anyone desiring further information may apply to the Town Officials and it is hoped that a public meeting will be held prior to the voting of the ratepayers on the main by-laws, where the matter can be fully discussed. It is expected that the Town will be in a position to go ahead with the work, if that is the wish of the ratepayers, well before materials are available. Wainwright is at the parting of the ways. If we do not provide ourselves with these necessities of modern living now we shall probably have to wait for many a long year. These modern conveniences are essential to the health and happiness of the citizens of our Town. Let us all pull together for a 100% vote when the time arrives.

HAS YOUR DOG A LICENSE?

Every year around the first of January there appears an advertisement in the Star, calling to the attention of the dog owners in Wainwright, that their dog license becomes due and payable at that date.

Why is it that in the middle of April we still see so many dogs running at large without those license tags dangling from their necks? Surely it is not the dogs fault.

The dog license idea is an old one in Wainwright and as old as it is, there appears to be so many people that are always trying to avoid it. This situation is unfair to the people that take pride in their dog and like him enough to spend $1.50 to save him from the dog catcher.

Some people will remark that it is the duty of the town policeman that he do some checking up to see just who has and who has not complied with the law. This is in reality a truth, but do you not agree that taxpayers money can be spent in many more useful ways than to instruct the town policeman to go super sleuthing for unregistered dogs.

No, we think that it should be a matter of personal respect for every offender to make this small concession and square himself, his dog and his conscience by complying with the law. Of course if the people do not respond soon, we have it on very good authority that there is to be a pure very shortly and those yelps that will be coming forth from Fido, will not be of joy, but rather of fear, fear of the dog catcher who will be following close behind.

Taxes are imposed on the public for the good of all, let us do our share by keeping up our end of the burden. If you have not taken out a dog license yet, do so at the earliest possible. Get them at the office of the Town Secretary and save yourself the trouble of redeeping the dog when it might be too late.

In The Legislature

by W. Mason

The closing week of the Session of the Alberta Legislature was highlighted by discussion on two main Bills—one an Act respecting the rights of Alberta citizens, and the other a Health Bill.

The Act respecting the rights of Alberta citizens is preambled by a list of undeniable facts. It points out that this country has fought two world wars for the declared purpose of assuring a better democratic society in which all people will receive a better share of the production and material resources of our country. One world war failed to win the peace, and the second one will do the same thing unless we organize our internal economy in such a way that the freedom and security for which men and women fought, may be experienced in reality by all of our citizens.

There is something about winning the peace is an obligation which every citizen owes to those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The preamble points out that this province possesses all the necessary human and material resources to guarantee our citizens material security and personal freedom. The B.N.A. Act charges the province with the responsibility of providing opportunities to enable the people of the province to realize and enjoy their property and civil rights. In order for the province to discharge this responsibility, certain basic rights and responsibilities of citizenship must be recognized. Alberta citizens must have access to the province's resources so that they can produce the necessary goods and services, and an equitable system of distribution must be inaugurated in order that all may realize a fair share from the efforts of the producers.

A province, to provide the opportunity for its citizens to develop and enjoy the resources of the province, must be in a position to control policy in respect to the issuing, use and withdrawal of credit.

This Alberta Bill of Rights is a sincere and earnest endeavor to translate into legislation, and then into actual experience, those principles which the great majority of Alberta citizens support. The preamble stresses certain definite, generally acceptable principles.

The rest of the Bill is divided into two parts. The first part deals with the rights of citizenship. It outlines the principles which govern the rights and responsibilities of every citizen—including the right of religious worship; freedom of expression; freedom of citizens to associate; the right to engage in work of one's choice which may be available in the province. It stresses the right of citizens to own land and homes, but also stresses the necessity for an opportunity to engage in gainful employment. Only if gainful employment is not available is a citizen entitled to a social security pension. This applies particularly to those between the ages of nineteen and sixty. Those under nineteen are entitled to the necessities of life, educational and medical benefits. Those over sixty who wish to retire from gainful employment are entitled to a pension and medical benefits. The physically disabled are at all times entitled to a social security pension and medical benefits.

The second part of the Bill deals with the issuing and transferring of credit entries. A court analysis will be sought, as well as a careful analysis by any and every provincial organization, and every citizen of the province. The government wants an expression of the people's views with respect to the provisions of this Bill. The Bill is a flexible one and the government is anxious that it be amended in any respect necessary to make it conform to the will of the people of the province.

In discussing the principles of the Bill while it was before the House, Premier E. C. Manning asked the citizens of this Province to answer for themselves three very important questions:

(1) Have we in Alberta the physical resources and manpower to provide the essential, necessary goods and services to our people?
 (2) Have we reached the stage where these proposals as outlined in this Bill can properly be regarded as rights of citizenship?
 (3) If this is not the best answer to our problem of organizing a new order and a better society, then what is the answer?

At no place in the Bill is there any question or suggestion of inflationary measures. There is a reference to supplementary buying power in circulation with the Province is below the total price of goods. This supplementary buying power is to be distributed to the consumer; as this is the place in the cycle of business where it will do the most good. The legislation does not affect our importing or exporting as done today. Banks will still do business as usual. The reference to the Courts of this Bill is a sincere endeavour to settle definitely the question of constitutional jurisdiction. Unions of all kinds have fought for the rights out-

Home Education

THEY'LL GET BETTER SENSE

My six-year-old nephew wanted to choose his own gift to send Aunt Maud for Christmas. His selection was a purple purse—a very "noisy" purple, to say the least. It was quite dispatched, however, without comment from the family. Aunt Maud thanked him for it. What she ever did with that purple purse no one ever knew.

The lad was almost twelve when one day, out of a clear sky, he said to me, "Do you remember that purple pocketbook I sent to Aunt Maud? Wasn't that terrible? Whatever made me pick out such a thing?"

"It's five and learn, isn't it?" I laughed.

He smiled. "Aunt Maud must have thought I was crazy."

I didn't offer any consolation. I was glad he was learning to appraise his own judgment. At the time he chose that objectionable purse, we could have told him what we thought of it, but he would not have understood. To his six-year-old eyes it was beautiful, and he might have cherished it for years—perhaps even more so, if we had interfered. As it was, he had no one to blame but himself, and evidently he had done just that.

We often worry ourselves too much over some childish trait that will correct itself as the child grows, if not him curiously along with the time. My neighbor's story illustrates this.

"Oliver," she told me, "was most disagreeable to his mother, when he was little. My mother used to say that I wasn't doing my duty by him and that I ought to punish him. For his unkindness. But his father said, 'He'll get more sense some day if we help him.' And you know, now there couldn't be a better brother than he is to both the girls. We have learned that behavior can be improved without punishment or faultfinding if a child invariably experiences pleasure when he does what is right."

They do get better sense. Ned's story is a further illustration.

Ned's mother worried about the way he talked. "Wherever do you get such ungrammatical expressions?" she would say to him. "We don't talk that way at home, and I know your teachers don't. What's the use of going to school if you don't speak correctly after you have been well taught?" The argument had little effect. Ned's response was, "Aw Mom, what do you want me to talk different from the rest of the kids for?" She stopped nagging him, and, because he liked to please her, he began to use good English when at home, but when with the boys his language continued to ignore all rules. Later, however, Ned secured a job in a grocery store, for after school hours. One day he confided to his mother, "You know how you used to fuss at me about the way I talked? Well, I'm trying to speak correctly all the time now. You can't talk as though you weren't smart to folks who come into the store—even if the fellows are listening."

Yes, they do get better sense as they grow up, if we have laid the foundations well. Let us be sure we are doing this—then we may safely put aside some of our worries over the childish shortcomings. One of the best teachers I have ever known used to say, "Educate, being patient for results."

It is a slow process, but really quite sure. So let us permit a measure of responsibility in our children. If they make mistakes, they will appraise themselves in due time—often more effectively than we could have done.

NEW COLOR DEAL FOR NEW BABIES

Paint color combinations featured as based on child psychology studies are being produced by one large manufacturer of children's furniture. With a million dollar plant under construction, the firm (Storkline) says juvenile furniture in the future will be finished in appealing colors.

Never again, say company officials, will baby carriages and baby furniture be decorated with staid, old-time finishes. Instead, the new streamlined models will compare with the smartest paint jobs of the finest automobiles.

Used in this Bill Professional groups have urged for these same things and individuals in every walk of life have expressed the desire for these things. Today, through this Bill, all people have an opportunity of forgetting sectionalism and of uniting in this one common demand.

The Bill makes no reference to making legal tender creating currency, promissory notes or paper money. It merely asks for the transfer and expansion of credit, a thing which the Banks practice today but not under legal authorization. From the Dominion Parliament, Honorable Lucien Maynard, Attorney General, argued on the floor of the House that the Province has the constitutional right to do those things outlined in the Bill.

SECOND CLOTHING DRIVE SCHEDULED FOR JUNE

Canada's second National Clothing Drive to provide much-needed garments for the millions of distressed people in the war-devastated countries of Europe will be launched on June 1st next and will be continued till the end of that month.

Hon. J. J. McCann, Minister of National Revenue and War Services, made the announcement today and stated that the appeal would be sponsored by the Dominion Government and be carried out under the auspices of the Canadian Allied Relief.

Last October, when the first appeal was made to the generosity of the Canadian people to donate serviceable used clothing for the sufferers from the ravages of war in Europe and Asia, over 1,000 communities organized committees, with the result that 12,000,000 pounds of exceptionally good quality clothing was collected, baled and shipped across the ocean and distributed by D.N.R.A., where the need was greatest.

Reports received from many countries in Europe indicate that the Canadian contribution was most gratefully received, and helped thousands of families to get through the present winter.

Dr. McCann points out, however, there are still millions of people in Europe who are homeless and without the means or opportunity to obtain clothing of any kind, and that many deaths are taking place from exposure as well as from lack of sustenance.

"Canada is doing her part in providing food for the hungry, but the great need for clothing can only be met by individual Canadians opening their closets and wardrobes, and giving what they can spare in this campaign," said Dr. McCann. "The campaign is being held in June so that the clothing collected can be sent to Europe in plenty of time for distribution before another winter sets in."

William M. Birks, of Montreal, has again been asked by Dr. McCann to direct the campaign as chairman of the National Committee, and he has named Rodger F. Pratt, of Ottawa—who has been loaned by the Department of Labor—as executive director.

The hope is expressed by Mr. Birks that all those who participated in the drive last Fall will again volunteer their services and start organizing their groups as soon as possible, enrolling as many additional people as they can so as to ensure the success of the campaign.

Freedom won through force of arms can only be kept through force of arms can only be kept through strength of character.

Hints for the Household

THE MILKY WAY
In planning meals for the home where there are children, it is necessary to think of them first. Milk, then, is a food to be considered. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture say that it is easy to plan dishes that have the required amount of milk for children and still appeal to the adult members of the family. Milk soups, escalloped dishes and many delicious desserts carry a large proportion of milk and yet are not suggestive of baby food.

The care of milk in the home is very important. As soon as possible after delivery, the milk should be taken into the house and put immediately into the refrigerator or other cold place. The bottle and cap should be washed, before putting away, in order to remove any dirt or dust which may have adhered to the bottle during delivery.

Milk should be kept in the storage place, except when it is actually being used. When cooking with milk, the bottle should remain in the warm kitchen only long enough to measure out what is required. In serving milk the amount put on the table should be as nearly as possible what will be used, and after the meal, milk, cream and butter should be the first foods put away. Left-over milk should not be poured back into the bottle, as the milk in the bottle will be several degrees colder than that taken from the table, and mixing them may affect the keeping quality and flavour. Milk pitchers should be thoroughly washed and frequently scalded.

Milk readily absorbs odours and flavours of other foods. To guard against this, it should be kept covered and away from strong foods such as onions, cabbage or fish.

Quick Cream Soup

4 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 quart milk
1/2 onion, sliced
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups grated raw carrot or turnip
Melt butter, blend in flour and gradually add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add onion, salt and grated vegetable, and cook over hot water until vegetable is tender, about 10 minutes. Remove onion. Sprinkle chopped parsley over soup just before serving. Six servings.

FARINA CREAM

2 cups milk
1/3 cup farina
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Heat milk in top of double boiler. Whisk in farina and salt with a fork. Cook 20 minutes, stirring, until it thickens. Add sugar, well beaten egg and grated lemon rind; cook 2 minutes longer. Serve hot with top milk; this pudding may also be served chilled. Six servings.

Carrot Custard

2 cups carrots, grated and cooked (or left-over cooked carrots, ground)

WHEAT PRICE OF $1.80 PROPOSED TO GOVERNMENT

Line elevator companies today urged the Dominion Government to pay farmers on a basis of not less than $1.80 per bushel on all wheat marketed since August 1st, 1945. In a communication directed to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, prime minister, Cecil Lamont, president of The North West Line Elevators Association, submitted the following proposals to the Government.

1. Pay the Canadian farmer through the Canadian Wheat Board a price of not less than $1.80 per bushel, based One Northern Fort William and Vancouver on all wheat sold by the Canadian Wheat Board on the export market since August 1st, 1945.

2. Pay the Canadian farmer not less than $1.80 per bushel based One Northern Fort William and Vancouver on all wheat sold to Canadian mills and sold for domestic consumption since August 1st, 1945.

3. That the Government discontinue subsidizing domestic wheat consumption under which farmers are forced to accept less than the true value of wheat milled and consumed in Canada.

4. That a Commission be set up to recommend to the Government a means of properly compensating growers of coarse grains for all coarse grains and malting barley marketed by farmers since August 1, 1945. Furthermore that this Commission recommend the compensation which should be paid to farmers on wheat sold in past years by the Canadian Wheat Board for milling and feeding in Canada at less than prevailing world prices. At the present time Eastern feeders are being subsidized at the expense of the Western farmer.

5. Revision of the Income War Tax Act to make it apply more fairly

2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups milk
2 egg whites
Mix carrot and beaten egg yolks. Add melted butter. Mix dry ingredients and stir into carrot mixture. Add milk and vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased casserole. Oven-cook in a moderate oven, 350° F, for 45 minutes or until set. Six servings.

"This quantity will make two one-crust pies. Bake the shells for 10 minutes in a hot oven 400° F. Add custard mixture and bake in a moderate oven, 350° F, for 45 minutes or until set.

Scotch Omelet

4 eggs
1/2 cup cooked rolled oats
1/4 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon fat
Beat eggs lightly, add the rolled oats, milk and salt. Mix thoroughly. Melt the fat in a hot skillet and pour in the mixture. Cook over low heat. With a knife loosen the edge of the omelet and tilt the skillet to let the uncooked portion run underneath the cooked part. When cooked, sprinkle with grated cheese, crease through the centre with a knife and fold over. Serve immediately. Six servings.

Creole Eggs

1/2 cup raw spaghetti (1-inch pieces)
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup canned tomatoes or tomato juice
3 clove garlic, mashed (optional)
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water and drain. Meanwhile make cream sauce of 1 tablespoon fat, flour and milk. Add seasonings. Cook onion in tablespoon fat until tender, but not brown. Add tomato juice, garlic and chili powder. Cook until thick. Add to cream sauce. Place alternate layers of spaghetti, sauce and eggs in a greased two-quart casserole. Sprinkle top with crumbs which have been mixed with the remaining tablespoon of fat, melted. Bake in a moderate oven, 350° F, for 20 minutes. Six servings.

Savory Sauce For Poached Eggs
2 tablespoons fat
1 small carrot, grated (about 4 tablespoons)
2 tablespoons onion, chopped
1 bay leaf
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sieved canned tomatoes or tomato juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Melt the fat, add the carrot, onion and bay leaf. Brown slightly. Add the flour and stir to make a smooth paste. Then add the water and tomatoes or tomato juice and stir until thickened. Add salt and pepper. Serve over poached eggs, or omelette. Six servings.

ly to farming operations. In support of the proposals the Line Elevator Companies said:

"On behalf of our farmer patrons, who comprise some sixty percent of the grain farmers of Western Canada, we desire to lay before the Government our views relating particularly to wheat and coarse grains prices being paid to farmers under prevailing conditions.

"It is well known to all that the losses suffered by farmers due to low prices prevailing for farm commodities during the 1930's brought about virtual financial collapse of the agricultural industry.

"During the depression years farmers were financially unable to replace worn out machinery and to make necessary repairs to buildings. Hence the outbreak of war they have been unable to purchase needed machinery and to make necessary building repairs. The result is that much of the farm machinery in Western Canada is now either worn out or obsolete and several millions of dollars of dollars are needed to replace machinery and to renovate farm buildings and fences.

"Another problem which faces the farmers is the uncertainty of their position on income taxation. Up until 1945 little or no attempt was made to collect income taxes from farmers. The farmers' co-operative business concerns insisted before the Royal Commission on Co-operatives that their profits should be free of income taxation and argued that the farmer should pay income taxes on profits obtained by co-operatives. It may be a coincidence that since then the Income Tax Department has been making a drive to collect income taxes for past years direct from farmers. At any rate, travelling auditors of the Income Tax Department are now touring Western towns and villages and collecting income taxes from farmers both on their farming operations and on the profits turned over to them by their co-operative business undertakings.

"While it is reasonable that farmers should share the income tax burden, the Income War Tax Act, as it stands today, is not fairly drawn to apply to farmers. Proper provision should be made for a long-time averaging of net farm income in order to take care of the hazards of farming and to provide adequate depreciation of farm machinery, buildings and land as well as to provide reasonable encouragement for increases in foundation herds of livestock.

"At the present time farmers are perplexed concerning their position relating to income taxation and many of them are being forced to pay out large amounts in income taxation which will prevent their having cash available to purchase necessary renewals of equipment when available.

"Canadian wage earners and citizens generally are well able to pay a price for bread commensurate with the value of that commodity without forcing the wheat farmer to sell his wheat at sacrifice prices.

"Cash rye is today selling for $2.60 per bushel while the May future on the Winnipeg open market is $2.57 per bushel so it is obvious that the Winnipeg open market reflects the true value of rye. Indeed the open rye market is an indicator of what price the farmer might be getting for his wheat, oats, barley and flax.

The Government might expect to buy International goodwill by a policy of selling the farmers' wheat today at less than its market value but that will not assist at a later date in selling wheat above its competitive world price. In short, the farmer is being asked to foot the bill of buying International goodwill.

"It is our conviction that if farming is to be properly rehabilitated in the post-war era that it must be placed on a sound financial basis. Farmers must participate with wage earners and other sections of Canada in obtaining their fair share of the increased values which are now available," the statement concluded.

Men become fit for freedom when they unite for what is right, not when they divide over their rights.

W.H.S. HI-LITES

Friday last King's Park was the scene of a W.H.S. party and wailer roost.

The students gathered at 7:30 p.m. and motored to the river, where everyone had an ample supply of hot dogs and coffee.

After lunch the remainder of the evening was spent in a sing-song. The music was supplied by two members of the "Students of Swing" who very thoughtfully had their instruments brought out to them.

At 12:30 the party broke up, and it is believed a good time was had by all. An Executive meeting was held on Monday, the main topic being the plans for purchasing new school sweaters.

Tuesday morning group pictures of the student body were taken by the Wainwright Studio. These are to be published in the 1945-46 year book.

Anti-Pasteurization Arguments Not Sound SAYS HEALTH LEAGUE

Opponents of the principle of pasteurizing milk to make it safe for human consumption have made much of "natural milk"—a term which is basically unsound when it is applied to cow's milk that is being used for human consumption, states the Health League of Canada which at present is engaged in a Dominion-wide campaign to obtain provincial legislation calling for compulsory pasteurization. Ontario is the only province at present with such a law—a law which has resulted in drastic reduction of milk-borne diseases in that province. Pasteurization is a simple, harmless, effective additional safeguard which should be insisted on over and above all sanitary precautions. To be completely safe, milk must come from certified animals, it must be cleanly handled, and it must be pasteurized.

April 26-27 "Over 21"

April 28-29 "Adventure of Ruston" & "Girl of the Limberlost"

The argument that clean milk need not be pasteurized doesn't hold because, while clean milk is essential from a sanitary point of view, even it can carry germs if it is unpasteurized. True, clean milk safeguards health to a certain extent in that from it is eliminated much disease-carrying dirt. However, it is not dependably safe.

There is no evidence to support the argument that pasteurization destroys any food element of which milk has an adequate supply. Properly carried out, pasteurization does not injuriously affect the taste of milk or the separation of the cream. Studies carried out on large numbers of children have shown that those who are fed on pasteurized milk thrive just as well as those to whom raw milk is given.

Once again, the Health League wishes to emphasize that Canadians do not have to drink disease-carrying raw milk. All milk can be made safe through pasteurization.

If the commercially pasteurized product is unavailable to them, Canadians can make their milk safe themselves. The Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ontario, can supply details of easy home methods.

Public libraries in Canadian communities are using films to increase the circulation of books by stimulating interest in special topics.

FRANCE SEEKING 20,000 HORSES IN CANADA

Nothing is more important to the western Allied countries of Europe than the rapid rehabilitation of their agriculture to fight starvation, and one of France's first needs in rebuilding up farm production is horses. To replace the horses killed or seized by the German Army of occupation, the French Government has sent a purchasing mission to Canada in an attempt to obtain 20,000 horses from this country.

The mission, which is headed by the chief of the agriculture and rationing division of the French supply council in Canada, Henry Lefevre, has been in Canada for a few weeks only but has been very active at the Canadian National Railway's Montreal Stock Yards. Already 700 horses have been purchased and started on their long journey to France by two C.N.R. special trains. Each train carried 50 attendants who also made the coast trip.

The 20,000 to be selected will come from Quebec, Ontario, Western Canada and the Maritime provinces. The Quebec-bred horses like the one shown at right, will go to the vineyards of southern and central France because of their smaller size. This one is being held by W. E. Watson, manager of the Montreal Stock Yards, while it is branded with the letter "F" for France.

BEAVER SHIPS RETURN: Canada and the United Kingdom were linked again by the famous Beaver line when the Canadian Pacific's new cargo liner Beavertail docked at Saint John, N.B. in March at the end of her maiden voyage from Liverpool. The turbo-electric fast freighter in making her initial crossing of the North Atlantic in less than seven and one half days demonstrated the service which will enable her and three sister ships to replace the original five vessels of the Beaver class which were lost during the war. A fine example of the latest developments in marine design and engineering, the Beavertail features widespread use of electrical installations. Her propelling unit is turbo-electric, in which steam generated electric power at high voltage drives the motor which turns the propeller shaft. Electric winches also are used to move the transfer of cargoes between ship and shore. Almost one quarter of the huge cargo carrying space on the Beavertail is refrigerated for safe transport of perishables. Electric fans ventilate all the holds while "tail-tails" and long distance recording thermometers enable the ship's officers to keep a close check on the cargoes, at all times. Other peacetime uses of "war-baby" developments in use on the ship include radar, gyro-compass, and the latest telegraph communication sets. The new 10,000-ton vessel was given a rousing welcome upon her arrival at the busy port where she discharged 6,000 tons of cargo, some of it rubber from Singapore, and loaded Canadian farm produce, including meat, eggs and flour, for the United Kingdom. At right, Mayor J. D. McKenna of Saint John congratulates Captain B. B. Grant on the return of the Beaver line to the North Atlantic fast freight service.

RAILWAY CHIEF HONORED BY U.S. UNIVERSITY

ROBERT CHARLES VAUGHAN, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railway, was awarded an honorary degree as Doctor of Science in Business Administration at the forty-eighth commencement of Clarkson College of Technology at Potsdam, N.Y., by Doctor John A. Rose, Jr., President of the College.

In presenting Mr. Vaughan for this degree, Dr. L. K. Silloo, of Watertown, N.Y., vice-president and trustee of Clarkson, paid a glowing tribute to the Canadian National executive, saying: "When called to the exacting responsibilities of directing the far-flung activities for the Canadian National Railway with its vast system of railways, airways, steamships, hotels, express and telegraph operations included, it was the combination of administrative talent and discrimination in appraising each request for further progress that has made Robert Charles Vaughan so effective. He is held by those, like myself, who have been privileged to work with him and know him intimately through the years not only as an able administrator, a thoroughly dependable Christian gentleman and scholar, but above all else as one who by his friendliness and open-mindedness can secure the cordial co-operation of his associates in striving for honest and worthwhile objectives."

Mr. Vaughan was the recipient of one of the two honorary degrees, the other going to William James Cunningham, of Boston, professor of transportation at Harvard University. These are the first such awards since Clarkson's fifteenth convocation anniversary three months ago when among others honor diplomas were given to Herbert O. Hoover, former President of the United States, and Joseph E. Davies, former American Ambassador to Russia.

In accepting the honorary degree from Clarkson Mr. Vaughan and Mr. Cunningham joined a distinguished international assembly of engineers, educators, industrialists, and business men who are recipients of honorary degrees from one of America's outstanding scientific institutions.

The photograph shows Dr. Rose congratulating Mr. Vaughan after the ceremony.

POULTRYMEN planning to market eggs at next fall's high prices should order Canadian Approved chicks early in the hatching season. These chicks, easy in the warmth of the brooder stove with drinking foundies and feed hoppers nearby, are getting a good start in life. Later, when placed on clean ranges with access to plenty of green feed, they will develop into healthy, well-bodied birds ready to produce big profits.

NOW THE LID IS OFF

To all intents and purposes this is a photograph of an ordinary telegraph pole, but on its cross arms are wire forming telegraph circuits which were part of Canada's wartime defence and security on the Atlantic seaboard. It was one of the best kept secrets in eastern Canada. The pole stands just outside of a small brick building in Moncton, N.B., which houses the delicate instruments for testing the circuits and repeaters of the vital communication system linking up the various naval, air and army bases that are included in the Atlantic Command. This secret testing station was operated and maintained by the Canadian National Telegraphs. The various bases of the Atlantic Command were all linked together by teletype and immediate communication could be had between them and Atlantic Command headquarters in Halifax. Also on this pole are telegraph cables over which many messages of vital importance to the war effort were transmitted; one connected Ottawa direct with London and another provided direct cable communication between New York and London.

It might be inferred that a building and a pole of this importance would be heavily guarded, but psychology was relied upon to afford protection. No guards were placed around the building nor the pole, nor was there any floodlighting. It was treated just as an ordinary office building and the pole was treated like any other telegraph pole with the result that very few people even in the city of Moncton knew of the vital importance of the installation.

In the upper floor above the telegraph testing and control room is the heart of the Centralized Traffic Control which governs the section of the Canadian National Railways between Moncton and Truro. This also was on the secret list.

Three Healthy Youngs

ONLY by good care of little pigs can Canada be assured of holding the British export trade and meeting the increasing domestic need for pork products. To have healthy pigs, the Dominion Department of Agriculture says good feeding of the sow before and after farrowing is necessary. Suckling pigs need iron, should be creep fed and given ample mineral and other growth promoting feeds. Healthy pigs are profitable pigs.

ON FAREWELL TOUR: The Earl of Athlone, Governor General of Canada, and Princess Alice, who will be returning to England this Spring, said goodbye to citizens of Quebec and Ontario during a farewell tour. Above, they are pictured in their car on arrival at the Windsor Station in Montreal on February 6 for a two-day stay.

Science Service

As announced two weeks ago, Line Elevators Farm Service now has a new Director. It has been suggested that readers of "Seedtime and Harvest" might be interested in a brief outline of what goes on in the Science Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture with which the present writer will henceforth be associated.

There are five services in the Department. They are: Administration, Experimental Farm, Marketing, Production, and Science.

Science Service embraces six divisions, namely: Animal Pathology, Bacteriology and Dairy Research, Botany and Plant Pathology, Chemistry, Entomology, and Plant Protection. The latter is concerned primarily with research problems related to the health and welfare of farm animals and plants and of forests. For this and other reasons, most of the various activities in Science Service are closely related to and coordinated with those of the Experimental Farm Service, the work of which is familiar to all readers of this article as it is, indeed, to most farmers all across Canada.

In Western Canada, Science Service is known largely through the work of the Dominion Laboratories of Plant Pathology in Edmonton, Saskatoon and Winnipeg; and the Dominion Entomological Laboratories at Lethbridge, Saskatoon and Brandon.

In handing "Seedtime and Harvest" over to Dr. F. J. Giesey, I can only express the hope that he may have the same encouragement from readers that I have enjoyed, and assure him that from now on I shall be a member of the army of faithful readers.

Beaver Returns

Here is the new Canadian Pacific Railway Company crest on which the beaver, symbol of the Dominion which the Confederation Line has served so long, re-appears after a 17-year absence. The change in the company's trademark for use in all departments in this country and abroad was announced by D. C. Coleman, the chairman and president.

To locate material of interest to local groups in Canadian communities on work done in other countries in their particular field, the National Film Board analyses foreign films with a view to making wider use of them in Canada.

Filmstrips have proved to be one of the most useful media for study in schools, because they can be adapted to suit the particular needs of any class.

More than one hundred films produced by the National Film Board have been seen by television through the facilities of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

A series of posters illustrating the chief Canadian occupations has been prepared by the National Film Board for use in vocational guidance work.

CAN YOU UNTIE THAT?

"Can you tie that?" is a favorite expression. "Can you untie that?" would be a question better suited to the times. We are facing the greatest crisis in man's history. And we need to face the fact that at a time like this, the average Canadian still finds himself tied up in a petty round of meaningless activities.

We are "tied to our desk," "tied up in ourselves" or "fit to be tied." All to what end? To make a living when our desperate priority is to learn how to live. To make money when our need is to make history. To make a name while unnamed ideologies are on the march to replace our names with numbers. To pursue these ends in a world where atom bombs may soon make an end to all of us. To kill time when there is so little time left.

In such critical days there can only be one meaningful purpose in life. It is to build a world that works. A world fit for heroes of two world wars to live in. A world safe for their children to grow up in. A world secure because it is free from fear, and hate and greed. A world which honors and reflects the God who made it.

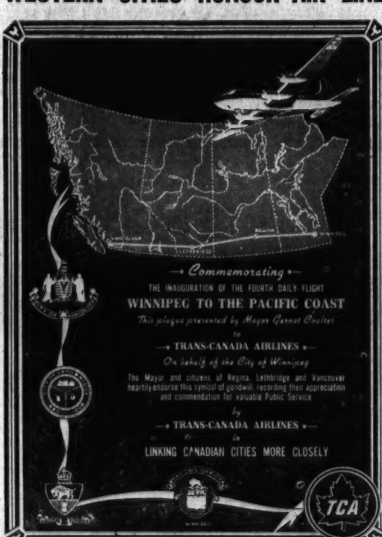

We need to untie every tie that keeps us from thinking and working towards this one great end. Freed from all our small self-seeking purposes, there is not one among us who could not find and take some special place of leadership in building this new world.

JASPER LODGE MANAGER

John P. Stark, who has just been repatriated from the Canadian Army, has been appointed manager of Jasper Park Lodge, the Canadian Rockies resort hotel, which will reopen to the public on June 15, after being closed as a war measure, it is announced by Robert Sommerville, general manager, Canadian National Hotel.

The Star does not hold itself responsible

All letters must be signed by the writer of name and should not be longer than 500 words.

Dear Editor,
A situation such as the one on the corner of Eighth Avenue and Main Street, commonly referred to as "Hogan's Alley" allowed to flourish
in what is termed a residential district, is a disgrace to the Town. It is am not mistaken there is an industrial section set aside for such things.
Not only is it an unsightly mess on the main street, but it also renders daytime road reception in the vicinity
almost nil, depriving licensed radio owners the privilege of using their radio.
It is to be hoped that this will be remedied in the near future as a promise was given to the Town Council that the situation was only to be of a temporary nature during the winter months. Here's hoping!

Yours truly,
A TOWN CITIZEN

Radiograms

An event that will go down in Alaskan history originated through CJCA's technical facilities April 2.
On an elevated spot on the Alaska
Highway, nine miles above Whitehorse, Honorable Ray Atherton, U.S.
Ambassador to Canada, representing the United States, "handed over" the operation and control of the Alaska Highway, telephone communications and airfields, to General A. G. L. Mc-Naughton, Canadian Chairman of the joint permanent defence board, representing Canada.

This ceremony was picked up on the spot by three CJCA radiomen who flew to Whitehorse for the occasion.
It was fed to CJCA's recording studios in Edmonton over the telephone lines that were constructed by the U.S. 643rd Signal Battalion.

This line, incidentally, is part of the facilities under Canadian operation
since the ceremony.

The historic ceremonies lasted 75
minutes; were recorded in their entirety; then the program was commenced into a 30-minute broadcast.
It was released over CJCA later the same day.

Program at Whitehorse commenced 2:30. It was then 4:30 in Edmonton.

Mervell Dabryen, assistant engi-
ner, Gordon Skutle, operator, and Ed Bryant, announcer, handled the broadcast at the historic spot. Gordon Shillaber and Doug Homersham were on the receiving end.

As an added feature of the day's broadcasting, Ed Bryant whipped up a story about "Whitehorse, the Home of Sam McGee" and was hooked up on Canadian News Roundup that evening. These events mark the ninth and tenth times that CJCA has brought Canadian listeners broadcasts
out of Canada's vast Northwest.

A.M.A. OFFICES ISSUE MANY CAR LICENSES

Motorists who have not taken out their new licenses for the license year which opened on April 1 will find police action soon after April 15, according to the provincial secretary's department.

Each year a certain period of time is allowed motorists to renew their licenses. This year, however, the action is initiated to check up on delinquents who are continuing to operate on license plates that have expired.

BEWARE OF DEFECTIVE SEED POTATOES

The good work done in Alberta in the control of Bacterial Ring Rot in potatoes is in danger of a serious setback, and the Alberta Department of Agriculture is urging all who grow potatoes to help them keep this destructive disease at bay. The matter has been greatly complicated by the introduction into the province during the past winter of large quantities of table potatoes from the United States.
It cannot be too strongly stressed that these potatoes are strictly table
potatoes and were brought in to relieve the shortage due to poor crops
last year. Many of these imported potatoes are known to be infested with serious diseases including the most serious of them all—Ring Rot.

On no account be persuaded to use these American table potatoes for seed. Those who have not had experience with the disastrous effects of Ring Rot may be inclined to treat
this warning lightly and, in planting
such potatoes, "just for their own use"
may start new spots of infestation
throughout the province.

Make sure your seed is good. If you have not sufficient of your own try to obtain it from a neighbour whose crop is known to be free from disease. Don't use for seed any potatoes purchased from your local store unless you know definitely that they came from a source free from disease,
or unless they bear the Dominion Tru-steeffees showing that they are of seed quality.

The planting of Ring Rot infested potatoes will mean not only loss of time, labour and crop, but is on a par with the carelessly thrown match that starts the forest fire. Results are rapid and may be equally disastrous.

CONTROL DESTRUCTIVE SPRING FIRES TO HAVE MORE BIRDS

Winnipeg—Spring is ahead of time, at least it looks that way now. Many birds, Pintails, Canada Geese, Mendocovaria, Killdeer—all ground-nesting birds—are back ten days ahead of time. If the weather keeps up they will be nesting earlier than usual.

By the same token, the stubble fields and haylands will be ready, to burn that much earlier, too. Where burning is to be done—get it done before April 15—before that if possible
—and save untold numbers of birds nests from destruction.

Ducks start to nest about April 20.
Prairie Chickens and Hungarian Partridge start early in May; so do many other ground-nesting insect-eating birds.

These birds consume thousands of bushes of noxious insects. Their steady pressure on insects heads off destructive outbreaks. On farm and communities, where stubble and hay-lands are burned before April 20, birds increase with astonishing rapidity. Lands that are to be summer-fallowed should be burned over before April 15—earlier if possible.

This discourages birds from nesting on fields which are to be ploughed at the time eggs or young are in the nests.

Control the burning. See that it does not destroy good nesting cover or wood lots; or run wild into marsh lands. Fire is a good servant but a terrible master.

Wildlife is a crop which thrives under wise management. Birds are valued co-operators with farmers—in the fight to control grasshoppers and like pests.

Burning stubble and haylands—
where necessary—before April 20
means more birds—fewer insect pests
—better farm crops—better farm communities.

B. W. Cartwright,
Chief Naturalist.

FOLLOW-UP PLAN ADVISED FOR REHABILITATION

One of the essentials of good administrative system is to make sure that action once begun is carried through to the desired conclusion.

We know what the desired end of the Rehabilitation process is, and we know that it begins (for the Department of Veterans Affairs) with the return of the veteran to the Rehabilitation Centre. There he gets counsel, and some course of action is decided upon.
Our administrative system should ensure that each "client's" case is reviewed periodically, to see that it is progressing according to plan. If it does not, then the plan must be modified. The Rehabilitation Counsellor who has handled the case, or his representative, should periodically get in touch personally with the veteran,
to let him say how he is getting on.

A recent Head Office instruction
makes the Training Division responsible for following up the progress of the veterans who have been approved for training—to see that they begin at the appointed time; get their allowances; are advancing in their studies or technical work, and finally complete them, and get placed in employment. When their files can be closed—
they are rehabilitated.

Must Make Start

Up to now, the pressure, due to the Services' rapid demobilization, and the shortage of staff has prevented this being done. A beginning must be made, and the service be steadily developed.

It is reported that veterans feel that the Department of Veterans Af-airs administration is too impersonal, institutional. They don't think of taking their troubles to Department of Veterans Affairs counsellors to talk them over. A follow-up plan can correct this feeling and create a much better relationship. It will give counsellors and interviewers a greater personal interest in, and responsibility for, their clients, give them more satisfaction in their work, and above all, benefit the men we are working for.

Finally, in the files of completed cases, in the statistics of the successfully rehabilitated, we shall have a measure of the effectiveness of our policies and efforts.

Programmes of films on sports and wild life for boys' and girls' clubs are provided on request by the National Film Board's representatives.

The National Film Board has made several display productions which present information on programmes of vital national concern. The film is service to the community.
